

FORWARD FROM DR TED BOYCE

Dear Friend,

Please find below a reflection to encourage you in your work of Christian education. We will send these out weekly and hope that these thoughts feed your soul.

The first series is based on CS Lewis' "Mere Christianity", and is therefore called "Mere Christian Education" by Dr Stephen Fyson.

Should you not wish to receive these reflections from me or my team in the future please unsubscribe at the bottom of this email.

In Grace and Truth, Dr Ted Boyce.

REFLECTION BY STEPHEN J FYSON PHD PRINCIPAL CONSULTANT

How did you go during the election? As a leader, were you challenged to have to respond to questions about economic stability and the future of Medicare? Were you pressured to give support to someone who promised more dollars per students in some form (as I was)?

For my part, I think the fascination of the whole event was why so many commentators did not include questions of personal morality in their analysis and comments. We have had leaders on both sides of politics routinely deposed due to opinion polls. We have had leaders on both sides of politics who regularly change their minds on critical issues. Yet they all seemed to be very sincere people, as individuals.

So what is the role of moral character in all of this? Again, CS Lewis had some considerable insight into this dilemma:

However much you improve the man's raw material [the psychological capacity], you have still got something else: the real, free choice of the man, on the material presented to him, either to put his own advantage first or to put it last, and this free choice is the only thing that morality is concerned with. (82)

How we live is not simply about raw dollars, or even raw capacity. This is true for politicians and us alike. Likewise, our deepest purposes for our students relate to more than raw capacity and content and skills. We have to choose what to do with what we have. Our reference point as Christians is living as God intends us to live, through grace by faith. For others, it is 'do what you like if you do not harm others'.

We need to keep praying how to exercise discerning leadership that invites our schools into the great joy of being free to love God and others even more. Amen!

Grace and peace,

Stephen J Fyson PhD
Principal Consultant
The Excellence Centre

Join the TEC Connections List to receive these emails

Subscribe here

We value your questions, thoughts and comments; so why not drop us a line to share how this newsletter has helped / inspired you. Send us an email

Our Vision...to transform the practice of Christian Education

We pursue our vision from a biblical base by aiming:

- To be authentically Christian
- Provide excellent products, services and research products
- Practice Christian Community

The Excellence Centre is a not for profit ministry of Pacific Hills Christian Education based at our Dural Campus in Sydney Australia.

You can read more about TEC at: http://www.theexcellencecentre.org

Visit us on Facebook

Copyright © 2016 The Excellence Centre, All rights reserved.

+61 2 9651 0712

email us

Want to change how you receive these emails?

You can update your preferences or if you do not wish to receive these reflections from Dr Ted Boyce or his team please unsubscribe from this list

MailChimp.